New catalog concept – sustainable and clear

With the new products catalog 2027, we are launching a new, sustainable catalog concept that conserves valuable resources.

New schedule: Starting this year, the main catalog and the new products catalog will alternate annually. This year you will receive the 2027 new products catalog. Next year, the 2028 main catalog will follow, then the 2029 new products catalog, and so on.

Sustainable: The new products catalog complements the most recently published main catalog and contains all the important new products summarized in a compact format.

Your advantage: You receive an up-to-date catalog every year – with all the new products clearly presented at a glance, while simultaneously using fewer resources.

New catalogs are being printed and will be on their way to you soon!

If you haven't received a catalog from us yet, you can order one now on our website
